Yes, I Still Take Lessons

So, every once in a while as I'm heading to and from the barn someone, my boyfriend, coworker, a friend, will ask me, "Why are you still taking lessons?" and I feel compelled to answer back simply, "because it's what I do." But I know this won't be enough of an answer for them and will then lead to additional questions like "don't you already know how to ride?", and "haven't you been riding since you were ten?"

I wonder if I should risk their eyes glazing over as I attempt to tell these non-horsey people just exactly why I get up before the crack of dawn to get on my horse and have someone else tell me what I already know how to do (at least in theory). I wonder if I can even explain it.

This question has been asked of me so often recently that it has made me really think about why I, why we all, do still take lessons and why it seems like such a foreign concept to most everyone else on the planet. I guess when I look at from an outsider's point of view riding is just a hobby like any other hobby. My boyfriend's hobby is mountain biking. He learned to ride a bike when he was a boy and now he rides his mountain bike. He doesn't take lessons, he doesn't need to; he already knows how to ride his bike. Similarly, my sister plays piano. She took lessons to learn when we were younger, but now as an adult, she just plays whenever and whatever she wants to. No lessons needed.

All this thinking prompted me to make a list of the many reasons why I still take lessons. I love a good list almost as much as I love taking lessons! So here it goes...

- I have been taking lessons since I was ten (affirmative answer to above asked question), therefore I must continue to take lessons. I mean who knows what could happen if I stop – the world might end!
- A good lesson can get me through the whole rest of the week. I daydream about how great my ride was when I should be working. I replay the lesson over and over in my head. I make plans for how I'm going to replicate this same ride during next week's lesson. I mean I got a clean flying change this week so next week a line of tempis should be no problem, right?

Letters to the Editor:

If you have comments, suggestions, or wish to express opinions relating to the sport of dressage, submit your letter for consideration to centerline@azdressage.org

Clinic Reviews:

Review a clinic you attended describing the training and what you learned from the clinician. Send submissions to centerline@azdressage.org

Barn News :

This column is for the trainer/barn to brag about the accomplishments of its clients, introduce new clients and horses, update readers about any barn improvements, or talk about any other news of interest to the membership. It's a free plug for the barn, trainer and clients. Send submissions to centerline@azdressage.org

Nuggets:

Do you have a training concept that you would like to share? Something your trainer has said to make your understanding more clear? Please share with other riders by sending submissions to centerline@azdressage.org

Member Submitted Articles:

Submit an article and photo of you and your horse on a topic of interest, a clinic or show experience. We'd love to hear from you! Send to centerline@azdressage.org. If the photo is a riding photo, a helmet for photo is required.

**Product Endorsements/Advertising*****

In most cases, products and services are considered paid advertising. Occasionally a specific product will be named as to how it benefits the horse or rider, but this is discouraged. Press Releases are welcome. Likewise, articles that are negative in nature concerning a particular product will not be considered for publication.

- And speaking of flying changes, I live for that feeling when suddenly I get the correct alignment for the shoulder-in or feel the hind leg come under and I know I've got it even as my trainer is telling me I do. I spent the first half of my riding career in hunter jumpers and not once was I asked to feel what the hind leg was doing! When I switched to dressage, I spent a couple years riding around just hoping that some day I would be able to feel what they were telling me I should be able to feel.
- I like the challenge of constantly improving myself (insert Type-A personality here) and that requires me to pay someone to tell me what I'm doing wrong. I also really like it when someone tells me I'm doing a good job.
- I need them to keep me motivated. Sometimes without the pressure of needing to impress my trainer with how much I've learned, I could probably go a week or two without riding or I could spend that time just meandering around the arena pretending to ride. I know, you're thinking I'm not quite as Type-A as I should be.

So there's my list for why I still take lessons. Maybe the next time someone asks me this question I'll just hand them this list.

Next problem to tackle - how to explain to someone what I learned in my lesson. The last time my coworker sprung that question on me I just stood there in the hallway stuttering like an idiot. I mean telling someone you rode around in a circle for an hour and worked on not losing the shoulder does sound kind of crazy. I wonder if I could get away with telling him that I've been short-listed for the Olympics. Ok, I'll never get there but a girl can dream, can't she?

-Pony Girl

Condolences

This past month the equine community suffered two great losses. Sherri Sorenson a long-time boarder at Bellisima Ranch passed away unexpectedly. Sherri was a kind and generous soul, and always had a smile on her face. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Another member of our community, Natalie Collins, also tragically lost her fiancé, Steven Pitt.

Our condolences go out to all their friends and families.

Bereiter Helmut Oberhauser of “The Spanish Riding School of Vienna”

*2 Day Riding Clinic
American Ranch, Prescott AZ*

Bereiter Helmut Oberhauser is an accomplished rider from the world renowned Spanish Riding School and has had a love for horses since an early age. Helmut became “Bereiter” in 2007 and has been with the Spanish Riding School for 21 years. His private students show in European competitions from novice through advanced, successfully competing at all levels. He places an important focus through training on the improvement of the rider’s seat, the quality of the movements, and connection & harmony between horse and rider. He is skilled at in-hand work, and happy to work with riders of all levels on the longe, in regular riding lessons, and teaching in-hand work. Helmut teaches clinics regularly in the UK, South Africa, Sweden, Belgium, Germany, and France. His English is excellent, and he is wonderful at articulating subtleties in lessons with his students. He is very particular about schooling correctly, but is also extremely kind and patient.

24. Adjournment -> Maeike Zoet motioned to adjourn the meeting at 8:08.

Barn Tip: Show Prep

Summer is here and most of our horses are in their stalls during the day because it is just too dang hot! Here are some fruit and veggies that work well in a frozen horse treat. Keep in mind that too much of anything is not healthy nor should these take the place of lots of fresh water or a balanced diet.

Apples, Apricots
Bananas, Beets, Blackberries, Blueberries
Carrots, Celery, Cherries, Coconut, Corn
Dates
Figs
Grapes, Grapefruit
Lettuce
Mango
Orange
Peach, Pear, Pineapple, Plums, Pumpkins
Raisins
Watermelon

You can make a tasty frozen treat in a Ice cream container, Rubbermaid bowl or small bucket by cutting up any of the fruits and/or veggies that your horse likes to eat, add water and freeze. If your horse is not IR "insulin resistive" add molasses to the mix. Once frozen, empty the frozen treat from the container, bowl or bucket into a deep feeding pan and let your horses lick and chew a "Bucket Popsicle".

Presents "Two Day Dressage Clinic" with...

Dr. Gail Hoff

of Los Alamos Dressage Center &
Canada Larga Ranch

Dr. Gail Hoff, Owner and Director of Los Alamos Dressage Center, now operating out of Canada Larga Ranch in Ventura, California, is a USDF Gold, Silver and Bronze medalist, a USEF Senior "S" Dressage Judge, a Registered "R" Dressage Sport Horse Breeding Judge, an "R" Western Dressage Judge and an FEI Grand Prix level trainer, clinician, coach, and retired competitor. Gail brings to her clinics an unusually broad experience and educated eye as a judge of both "Western" Dressage & "Classical" Dressage".

Gail's unique ability to quickly detect and correct training/showing problems, helps you to move through your issues, and gain a better understanding of how best to work with the biomechanics of your horse. Gail works with all levels of riders and horses, from beginner to Grand Prix. Her focus is on balance, harmony, and performance through systematic steps based on the classical training scale as applied to each individual horse and rider. This has allowed her to train several horses to Grand Prix and to develop several riders to earn their USDF Gold, Silver and Bronze medals.

Gail developed a very effective system of training called Harmonic Dressage®, which is based on the classic Training Scale. It incorporates a life time of experience as a successful dressage judge, breeder of dressage horses, trainer, competitor and coach.

As a former breeder of Swedish Warmblood (SWB) horses, Gail has bred some of the highest scoring SWB horses in North America!

USDF Sport Horse Seminar

Featuring
Kristi Wysocki & Hilda Gurney

Sunday & Monday, August 5 & 6, 2018
9 am to 4 pm

DG Bar Ranch
Hanford, CA

This two-day seminar educates breeders, riders, trainers, and potential owners about the qualities to look for in a dressage sport horse, and introduces seminar attendees to judging methodologies. The seminar content is taught through a combination of classroom and live demonstrations with horses of all age groups. Individuals registered as Participants will have the opportunity to interact directly with the seminar Instructors, as well as engage with the seminar content through practice judging and evaluations of the presented horses. Registration as a Participant is required for individuals seeking to fulfill prerequisite requirements for enrollment in the USEF Dressage Sport Horse Breeding Judge program. Participants will be provided with hard copy educational materials for use throughout the seminar, and must be current USDF Participating or Group Members at the time of registration. Auditors are able to attend the seminar and observe the classroom and live demonstration components, but will not be provided with educational materials or be able to participate in the interactive aspects of the seminar.

Dear Dressage Enthusiast,

USDF invites you to attend the 2018 Adequan®/USDF Annual Convention, November 28 through December 1, in Salt Lake City, UT!

Nestled between the basin of the Wasatch Mountains and the Great Salt Lake,

Salt Lake City claims a bounty of outdoor recreation and metropolitan culture. The host hotel, the Salt Lake Marriott Downtown at City Creek, is directly connected via skybridge to the City Creek Center, which boasts over 100 stores and restaurants. Conveniently located within walking distance is the Temple Square (home of the Utah Symphony and Tabernacle Choir), where you can enjoy local events, architecture, and gourmet dining. Be sure to check out the amazing cultural museums and historical sites as well.

The "Ski City" slopes of Park City (which held the 2002 Winter Olympics) are just 28 miles east of Salt Lake City, and host wonderful skiing and many other winter activities. You can also travel just 19 miles to the west and see the Great Salt Lake. Both locations offer convenient shuttles from several downtown Salt Lake City locations.

Join us to learn about the latest developments in the dressage community, influence the direction of dressage in the United States, and celebrate the achievements of those in our sport.

We look forward to seeing you in Salt Lake City!

Sincerely,
USDF

Group Members can apply for the Ruth Arvanette Memorial Fund Grant, which allows one deserving individual to attend the 2018 Adequan®/USDF Annual Convention, by providing funds to cover the cost of attendance. Applications must be received by August 31.
